

Bronco Soccer Player Expectations

The following are detailed player expectations for the upcoming season. If a player fails to meet these expectations playing time and status on your current team will be effected. The purpose of the player expectations is to ensure that players are putting the "TEAM" first and taking care of responsibilities to give the Broncos the best opportunity to succeed.

Academic Expectations

We encourage all players to make academics their number one priority. To be eligible for athletics players must maintain a minimum of a 2.0 GPA. If a player is assigned to study hall that player must attend every study hall. Failure to meet those requirements may result in not being able to participate in training and or matches.

Training Sessions

Our goal is to maximize our training time. To ensure this every player is expected to participate in training every day. If for some reason a player is not able to train because of an injury, that player must see the trainer for treatment.

Be on time

Training begins promptly at 3:10 pm. Players are expected to be dressed with cleats on by 3:10 pm. Any player who will be late must text one of the coaches as to the reason they will be late. Continuous tardiness will have an impact on playing time and availability for matches.

Training gear required

All players must bring the following training equipment to each training session: Cleats, running shoes, shin guards, appropriate training gear for cold weather.

Coach-Ability: What is it, and do I have it?

Coach-ability is listening to constructive criticism, accepting the criticism or suggestions, and using them on areas of your game that need to be improved in order to take you to the next level.

- (1) Be thankful someone will take the time to help you improve.
- (2) Be open to honest feedback
- (3) Be willing to work hard
- (4) Be willing to change bad habits
- (5) Be humble

Fitness Expectations

Fitness will be more of a priority than ever before. Players should be fit enough to run throughout an 80 minute match plus 30 minutes overtime. Players missing significant fitness sessions will be held accountable and will have to make up fitness sessions missed in order to join the normal training activities.

Team Travel Expectations

Players are expected to follow Clovis code of Conduct while traveling with the team. Players need to conduct themselves in the appropriate manner while on the bus or other campuses. Coaches expect players to be on time and ready for team meetings or departure times. Zero tolerance.

In Season Expectations

No snowboarding, skating, or any physical activities that might cause an injury that would prevent a player from being able to train and play in matches.

Additionally, YOU CANNOT PLAY FOR ANY OTHER TEAM DURING HIGH SCHOOL WITHOUT PRIOR APPROVAL. We will forfeit games if you play for a club team during high school season so make sure you plan ahead on respect your teammates.

Code of Conduct Expectations

All Clovis North players are to follow the code of conduct set forth by Clovis Unified School District at all times.

Saturday Trainings (Make-ups for Varsity Only)

All players who miss training during the week for any reason other than injury will be required to attend Saturday morning training to make up for the absence AND maintain eligibility status. Saturday Make-Ups are understood by each player to include Extra Fitness. Saturday Make-ups are not optional and the work load will be determined by the coaching staff - No questions asked.
