SHOPPE is an academically enriching program that provides high school students the opportunity to prepare for and to experience college. The program is open to all Hmong high school students who aspire to attend college.

This is an all expense paid program. Housing and food will be provided while attending the program. Students will be housed with Stanford Hmong Student Union members who have generously agreed to host them.

Transportation will also be provided for students living in areas near Fresno and Sacramento at centralized locations. For students not in these areas, students may provide their own form of transportation or use the provided transportation services.

Rutgers

We are pleased to inform you that registration is now open for School of Engineering tours for the spring semester. There will only be three tour dates for prospective students. Current applicants should not sign up for these tours.

On Fridays, February 9, February 16, and April 20, our Knight for a Day tours begin at 10 a.m. at the Visitor Center with an admissions information session, followed by a five-campus bus tour. During the bus tour, families will be able to view one of the first-year residence halls on the Busch campus. They will also break for lunch (on their own) before heading to the school-specific portion of the day at 1 p.m. A detailed itinerary will be provided once registered.

Department options include one of the following:

- Biomedical & Chemical/Biochemical
- Civil/Environmental & Materials Science
- Electrical/Computer & Industrial Systems
- Mechanical/Aerospace & Applied Science/Packaging

Families can register for these tours while space is available. To learn more about the engineering tours, please visit soe.rutgers.edu/tours.
